

As a resident of the local community, KLOVE radio provides uplifting music and words from the cast that help me through each day; keeping me calm while I drive and reminding me of God's love and promises. For KLOVE to be available for all in our community, it helps keep peace among us and remind us to "love thy neighbor" and "do unto others as you would have done unto you." Secular radio stations use fowl language and promote activities and behavior that is not necessarily considered friendly or spiritually uplifting at all times. We need KLOVE to encourage all ages of our community to seek out the best within ourselves as well as others.
